WEATHER

March in Neemrana brings pleasant, early-summer weather with temperatures typically ranging from 13°C to 35°C. The climate remains largely dry, with clear skies and low humidity, offering a comfortable balance between cool mornings and evenings and moderately warm afternoons. This agreeable weather makes March an excellent time to explore the historic charm of Neemrana Fort Palace, enjoy outdoor activities, and take in the scenic surroundings along the Delhi–Jaipur highway without the harsh intensity of peak summer heat. The refreshing atmosphere and mild conditions enhance the overall travel experience, making it a popular choice for visitors seeking both leisure and heritage.

SIGHTSEEING

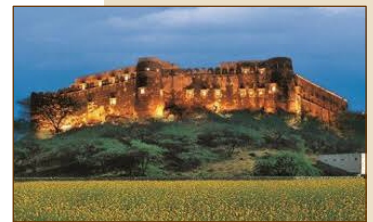

Neemrana Baori (Stepwell) : Book 500-meter trek to a subterranean centuries-old stepwell, regionally known as baori, baoli or bawadi, a unique type of water-harvesting structure. A marvel of architecture, engineering, and art, the stepwell guaranteed access to the precious resource - the groundwater buries so deeply that nearly 200 steps are required to reach it during dry seasons. The steps get submerged, when the monsoon arrives.

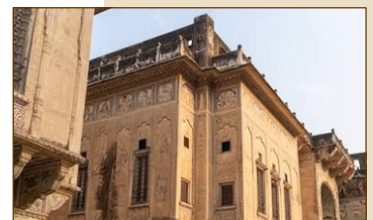

Tijara Fort-Palace (Alwar) : Perched on a hill in Alwar district, this 19th century palace has been sensitively restored into a heritage hotel by the Neemrana group. Its unfinished yet grand architecture blends rugged stone structures with elegant design elements. The property offers sweeping views of the surrounding countryside, creating a tranquil and retreat-like atmosphere. It is ideal for those seeking a quieter alternative to more frequented heritage sites.

Hill Fort-Kesroli (Alwar) : Dating back to the 14th century, this fort is among the oldest heritage hotels in India. Set atop a hill amidst the Aravalli range, it retains its rustic charm with thick stone walls, narrow passages, and open courtyards. The fort offers panoramic views of the countryside, especially striking at sunrise and sunset. It provides a blend of historical authenticity and understated luxury.

Piramal Haveli (Shekhawati) : Located in the Shekhawati region, this restored 20th century haveli showcases the area's renowned fresco art and merchant heritage. Its walls are adorned with intricate paintings depicting mythological themes, colonial influences, and everyday life. The haveli provides an immersive cultural experience, reflecting the opulence of Rajasthan's trading communities. It is a valuable stop for those interested in art, architecture, and history.

Camel Rides : You can explore the nearby villages on foot or by camel cart, at an additional charge. Please contact the reception during your visit to avail this service.

Vintage Car Ride: Resident guests at Neemrana Fort-Palace can now enjoy a 5 Km Vintage Car Ride around the Neemrana village. Please contact the reception during your visit to avail this service.

DRESS CODE

Redefining Formal: Smart Casual

Attendees are advised to follow a formal dress code that aligns with the professional setting while complementing the heritage environment. The overall standard is business casual to semi-formal, ensuring both comfort and decorum throughout the event.

During daytime sessions, business casual attire is recommended. Light, breathable fabrics such as cotton or linen are suitable given the climate, with options including collared shirts, blouses, formal trousers, or modest dresses.

Comfortable, closed-toe footwear is advisable due to the fort's stepped layout and stone pathways.

Evening engagements, including formal dinners or networking events, call for smart formal or semi-formal attire. Men may opt for shirts with blazers or formal Indian wear, while women may choose elegant western formals or traditional attire.

Attendees are encouraged to maintain a modest and polished appearance at all times. Overly casual clothing such as shorts, flip-flops, or athleisure is discouraged in conference and shared spaces.

Images used are for illustrative purposes only.*

Natural fabrics like cotton and linen are comfortable during the warmer afternoons, while warmer clothes are useful for the cooler early mornings and nights. Speakers are advised to dress smart and sharp.

Avoid packing T-shirts for the conference.*
